

To support our growth and our strong consulting dynamic, we are looking for a Cybersecurity Risk Management Consultant to join our team as soon as possible. Paris team.

Your skills

Reporting to our GRC BU, you will provide our customers with your expertise and contribute to the company's development and reputation:

- You have a 5-year higher education diploma from an engineering school or a M2 in IT and networks, with a specialization in information systems security.
- You have more than 3 years' experience in cybersecurity/GRC with concrete achievements
- For 2 years you have carried out risk analyses, including Ebios RM analyses.
- You have the ability to provide pragmatic solutions to technical and functional cybersecurity issues.
- You are at ease in English: customer exchanges and leading meetings

Your profile

Our commitments

- On a daily basis, we apply our values of Caring, Excellence and Commitment.
- We are also committed to a CSR approach that is important to us and that we strive to apply on a daily basis.

Our internal development

- We share whenever we can, because we are convinced that personal enrichment comes from contact with the experiences of others: townhall, lunch & learn, newsletters, feedback, in-house training via the Formind Academy, etc.

Our balance

- For our professional and personal development, we regularly organize social events with an extremely active CSE: afterworks, parties, trips, etc.

Your 1st missions

- Risk mapping / analysis
- Implementation of ISP and safety assurance plans
- Benchmark/integration of risk analysis solutions
- Classification/Protection of information
- The GRC department also contributes to pre-sales, the development of our offers and training (improvement/capitalization, communication...) through days dedicated to these activities.
