

To support our growth and strengthen our team of PAM experts, we are looking for a PAM (Privileged Access Management) expert consultant to join our Paris team as soon as possible.

Your responsibilities

As a consultant within the framework of your missions, your scope of intervention will be as follows:

- Implement and manage PAM solutions, mainly using WALLIX and/or DELINEA technologies, to secure our customers' information systems.
- Carry out security audits to identify vulnerabilities and possible improvements in the management of privileged access, and propose corrective strategies.
- Work with customers' technical teams to integrate PAM solutions into their existing architecture, ensuring compliance with security policies and regulatory requirements.
- Provide high-level technical support, including complex problem resolution and post-deployment support.
- Act as a point of contact for all issues relating to privileged access security, training end users and maintaining up-to-date documentation.
- Maintain a continuous technological watch to stay at the cutting edge of MAP innovations and best practices.
- Participate in the WFP community as a WFP expert

Your profile

Graduate (Bac+5) from an engineering school or a M2 in IT and networks, with a specialization in information systems security. You have at least 6 years' experience. Proven certifications are expected.

Technical skills and knowledge

- In-depth technical expertise in WALLIX and/or DELINEA solutions, with practical experience of deployment and management.
- Strong skills in security analysis and architecture, able to quickly identify potential security problems and develop effective solutions.

Interpersonal and professional skills

- Ability to communicate clearly and effectively with a diverse audience.
- Project management skills
- Ability to work effectively in multidisciplinary teams.

Workplace: Issy Les Moulineaux
Remuneration: according to profile
Telecommuting: 2 days/week
A friendly, caring atmosphere
